

2020 银行春招寒假作业英语篇

单项选择 · 习题

- Doesn't he remember () me before?
 - to see
 - seeing
 - having seen
 - see
- You're sweating heavily. You look tired () running.
 - of
 - at
 - by
 - with
- () time has passed since we graduated.
 - conscious
 - considerable
 - conservative
 - consistent
- Without the teacher's instruction, he () any great progress.
 - would not make
 - should not have made
 - should not make
 - would not have made
- The professor's new book is () reading.
 - well worthy
 - very worth
 - very worthy
 - well worth
- You should make choice based on your () and long-term needs.
 - primary
 - fundamental
 - superficial
 - immediate
- The reform will hopefully help () a number of job.
 - exist
 - generate
 - occur
 - cause
- Continuous work will () your energy and make you exhausted.
 - apply
 - hold
 - drain
 - leave

9. I'm going back to my home town this winter, () I won't have enough time to buy presents.
- A. by which
 - B. in which
 - C. at which
 - D. on which
10. We will get () our partners to determine the best.
- A. in touch with
 - B. head of
 - C. back to
 - D. along with
11. OPEC holds meetings frequently so as to regulate the out of () oil.
- A. first
 - B. crude
 - C. original
 - D. primary
12. There was a () rush to get everything ready for the unexpected inspection from the superiors.
- A. calm
 - B. mad
 - C. frantic
 - D. wild
13. It is the job of an aircraft maintenance engineer to make sure planes, helicopters and all managers of aircraft () safe to fly.
- A. are
 - B. is
 - C. be
 - D. to be
14. The story reaches its () in chapter ten.
- A. tallness
 - B. height
 - C. climax
 - D. top
15. When she returned () abroad, she told us about her experiences as an illegal immigrant.
- A. by
 - B. back
 - C. from
 - D. to
16. We'll give every employee () for development.
- A. room
 - B. house
 - C. employment
 - D. place

阅读理解 · 习题

Passage 1

In a survey, people were asked to choose between two treatments to save 600 people from dying from a disease.

Participants, including physicians, were asked to choose between a certain outcome that 200 people will be saved and a riskier choice where there is a one-third probability that 600 people will be saved and a two-thirds probability that no people will be saved. In a second example, the group were asked to choose between allowing 400 people to die or a one-third probability that nobody will die and a two-thirds probability that 600 people will die.

In both examples, the first choices have an identical outcome as do their second alternatives. But faced with such a grave choice, people did not spot the similarities. In the first example people opted to save 200 people over the gamble of losing people and in the second example people preferred the gamble over the certain outcome of killing 400 people.

What the experiment shows is that wording can have potentially dangerous consequences. Most of people tend to feel loss much more strongly than the pleasure of making a comparable gain.

1. What's the difference between the two examples mentioned in the passage?

- A. the background
- B. the contents
- C. the wording
- D. the participants

2. In the second example, more people choose the option ().

- A. allowing 400 people to die
- B. that 200 people will be saved
- C. with a two-thirds probability that nobody will be saved
- D. with a one-third probability that nobody will die

3. What's the main theme of the passage?

- A. you can take advantage of wording
- B. wording can change people's decisions
- C. wording is potentially dangerous
- D. you can change people's decisions

Passage 2

Trees in the forest may or may not make a sound when they fall. In the Brazil, they have a new and silent way of alerting the authorities to illegal logging text message.

Covering an area of 1.4 billion acres and home to one in 10 of world's species, the Amazon rainforest has lost about a fifth of its total size since 1970. While deforestation hit record lows in 2012, nearly 3000 square miles were still lost.

About 63% of the Amazon rainforest is in Brazil, and the government has invested heavily in several measures to reduce the number of illegal clearances taking place. Satellite imaging is one of these initiatives: it works well in identifying large areas that have been cleared for illegal harvesting, but the gangs can get around this by clearing multiple smaller sites.

Now, as part of a pilot program, trees in a protected area of the Brazilian Amazon have been fitted with a cellular Communications device.

Highly robust, the device can operate for over a year without recharging and has been modified with new technology, which extends its range in low-signal areas.

The initial test involved 20 strategically placed devices and resulted in several arrests and the closure of one illegal sawmill.

4. What may the trees in the Amazon rainforest do when they fall?

- A. send text message
- B. make a noise
- C. shout at the authorities
- D. begin to cry

5. What's the size of the Amazon rainforest according to the passage?

- A. 3000 square miles
- B. 1970 square miles
- C. 1.4 billion acres
- D. 5 times the size of normal rainforest

6. In order to reduce illegal logging, Brazilian government ().

- A. only developed the satellite imaging system
- B. tries to identify all illegal clearances
- C. sets up protection areas in the rainforest
- D. has invested in several initiatives

7. Which of the following is true about the cellular communication device?

- A. all trees in the rainforest have been fitted with it
- B. it proves to be effective in the pilot program
- C. it doesn't need recharging at all
- D. it's operated by the robot and is totally automatic

Passage 3

If you are interested in starting your own business, getting a college degree can aid in that process and propel you forward. International Business administration curriculum gives you a solid foundation on which to pursue your dream. Look to these three your business majors for the skills needed to become an entrepreneur.

International Business

International trade practices, international marketing and international banking and finance and just a few of the subjects you will cover with a concentration in international business. Understanding global supply chains and operating dynamics is key if you want to start an import or export company. Many manufactured goods are produced outside of the United States because the cost is cheaper for entrepreneurs, knowing which countries to have products produced in is important for building a fledging business into a force In the marketplace.

Accounting

By majoring in accounting, you learn how to prepare and interpret financial statements. This is an invaluable skill for owner because you have to steer your company in the right direction using your financial data. Many small business owner do their own bookkeeping themselves, which saves them time and money that can be reinvested into the business. Upstanding margins cost of goods sold and ledger maintenance gives you a better chance of succeeding.

Management

As a management major, you learn a wide variety of subjects that give you the tools to manage people in your business. Management is critical for entrepreneurs and can mean the difference between success and failure. Knowing how to deal and get them to work in unison is critical. Management classes teach you the nuances of everything from human resources and interpersonal communication.

These three college majors are ideal for those looking to become entrepreneurs and build a sustainable company contract with additional information on getting your degree and taking your first steps toward starting your business.

8. According to the passage, what can assist those who want to start their business?

- A. college degree related to business administration
- B. resources that can propel them forward
- C. skills of pursuing their dreams
- D. people with business majors

9. Which of the following subject will you learn if you major in international business?

- A. international Finance
- B. International Trade Practices
- C. International Marketing
- D. all of the above

10. What's the benefit of learning accounting according to the passage?

- A. you may use your financial data to direct your company
- B. you will definitely have more money to invest in your business
- C. you will be more likely to make a fortune
- D. you can prepare all the statements by yourself

11. As a management major, you know ().

- A. the difference between success and failure
- B. how to deal with your potential customers
- C. the nuances of communication
- D. how to manage people in your business

12. The writer of the passage is probably a/an ().

- A. ambitious investor
- B. marketing staff
- C. new undergraduate
- D. experienced entrepreneur

Passage 4

If your company trades with China, you'll be invoicing in RMB, paying it and receiving it from your clients.

If you operate in China, you will be issuing debt in RMB and using it to hedge your foreign exchange and interest rate risk.

And if you're a global investor, then the RMB will be a key part of strategy, whether you're investing in currency, equity or credit products.

Most of us have been surprised by the rapid speed with which the RMB has developed since the currency took its first baby steps outside mainland China in the early 2000s.

Has the RMB been a part of your business yet?

13. If your company has business transactions with Chinese companies, you would ().

- A. make payments in RMB
- B. receive RMB from the clients
- C. make out invoices in RMB
- D. all of the above

14. When did the RMB begin to be internationalized?

- A. a few years ago
- B. in the early 2000
- C. in the early 21st century
- D. Recently

扫一扫, 加入 2020 银行备考-寒假作业群