【参考范文】

After entering high school, I had to review more subjects every night, so I had to stay up late every night. The result was that I'm sleepy the next day, and then I missed a lot of points. This led to my poor exam results last semester.

Now, I go to bed at 10 o'clock every night to get enough sleep. In this way, I am full of energy in class during the day, and ask the teacher for advice on the content that I don't understand. After a period of time, my grades keep up with other students.

Through the comparison of the two semesters, it is found that good study habits and work and rest habits are very important for learning. We can make your own plan according to our own situation.
